Learning Objectives

1. Convene top experts in the fields of Obstetrics/Gynecology and Hematology, who are working in uterine hemostasis and/or blood disorders in women and girls.
2. Review the state of the science with respect to the management of placenta accreta, hematological disease of newborn, fetal and neonatal alloimmune thrombocytopenia, and fetal/neonatal hemostasis and thrombosis.
3. Describe and underscore for target healthcare providers, the intersection of obstetrics/gynecology and hematology in the optimal care of patients and their developing infants, and to develop mechanisms for facilitating the collaboration of these specialties.
